 2. Leucophaea

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and is mostly illegible due to fading and the cursive style. The script appears to be from a European language, possibly German or Dutch, based on the characters and the use of capital letters. The text is organized into several lines, with some lines starting with capital letters. There are two distinct circular marks or holes on the left side of the page, possibly from a binding or a punch. The right edge of the paper is irregular and torn.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written on a single sheet of paper, showing signs of age and wear. The script is dense and fills most of the page. There are several large, dark ink blotches or stains visible, particularly in the center and lower right areas, which may be due to damage or ink bleed-through from the reverse side. The text appears to be organized into several lines, with some variations in spacing and punctuation. The overall appearance is that of a well-used, possibly official, document from a past era.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. It appears to be a continuous narrative or record, possibly related to a legal or administrative matter, given the use of terms like "procurator" and "procuratorum". The script is dense and fills most of the page.

Handwritten text in the right margin, possibly a date or a reference note.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and is organized into several lines. The script is dense and flowing, characteristic of early modern handwriting. There are two large, dark circular marks, possibly ink blots or holes, visible on the page. The text appears to be a continuous narrative or record, possibly related to a legal or administrative matter, given the formal nature of the script and the presence of what might be a signature or official stamp at the bottom right.
